Should it happen that there is no regintering officer in any election district or in any county, then we advise those who consider themseives qualified voters to hold their own elections without registration, complying in all other respects, as far as possible with the law. Although there is no provision in the Constitution or the Registration law requiring persons to register in the district in whi h they reside, yet it is best to do so in all ciscs. because the list of registered voters for each election precinct as returne by the Register is the list to be furnished the judges of cleet'en, and it would be ex tremely inconvenient, and in some in stances impracticabe, for the voter to procure evidence of his having been regstered except from the list in the bands of the judges of election.

Whomever the voter is satisfied that the registering officer has willfully and corruptly refused to register him as a "qualified voter," he should immediately institute proceedings against him before a Justice of the Peace under the provis-Registry law, and have him bound over to appear before the next Grand Jury to answer criminally for the offence.
